A Surprise.

On Thursday evening, July 4, some forty especial friends and neighbors invited after the manner of surpriso parties, gathered with well-filled lunch baskets, and various packages of fire works, etc., at the Manley mansion for the purpose of celebrating the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Manley.

To their surprise they found the house ly all dressed in their Sunday best, ready avenue. May it soon cross that thoroughto extend a hearty welcome, with faces fare and make a call in front of the News greeting for all. The surprise secret had rooms of the Y. M. C. The spacious lawn in front of the mansion was artistically decorated with Chinese lanterns, and near rives and enters upon his duties... lunch of cake, ice-cream and lemonade as agent of the United States Express was served to the numerous company.

After the lunch was over and before the company had risen, Miss Hattie Mason brought forward a silver cake stand and sugar bowl, and after a fine speech which voiced the sentiments of all, presented the same in behalf of the donors. This part of the program proved a genuine surprise, as there had been no intimation of presents given in the bill of particulars. Tho' not given to public speech making, and laboring under embarrassment, Mr. Manley proved himself equal to the emergency by rising and responding in a few words, conveying a hearty appreciation and most grateful thanks for the honor shown his family on this eventful occasion. His short, com-Mr. and Mrs. Shubsel Smith starts the prehensive speech brought a round of hearty cheers from his hearers.

Hymn: "The World is Growing Better" Benediction.

"Barbarism in the nineteenth century," was the subject of the sermon at the M E. church last Sunday evening. The text was Jeremiah, 10:22. "Behold, the noise of the brute is come, and a great commo tion out of the north country." Among other things the speaker said that in view of the fact that there is in the city of New Orleans, a gathering together of brutish men for brutal purposes, that they came from the north country and their coming together has been heralded by the press and greeted by the enthusiasm of the sporting and gambling world. The text is exceedingly appropriate. Men are still found who are willing to make beasts of themselves for the sake of money or a certain kind of low renown. Prize-fighting and gambling are allies, and both are relics of barbarism. The man who stakes his money on the result of a prize-fight is as guilty of social corruption as the fighter is of inhumanity and the violation of civil law. The man who gambles on the result of any game or contest or, in any other way, is a corrupter of the public morals and wich and Sullivan, all of which were fairly he belongs. The time has come for us, even here in our quiet villiage, to protect our children in their innocent sports from the intrusion of the brutish man and the gambler.

The cause of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational Society will be presented at the M. E. church next Sunday morning. The theme to be discussed is one in which all good citizens irrespective of party or creed are deeply interested, and all are cordially invited. CONGREGATIONAL

She has grown quite fleshy and stout since her trial last fall, and seems happy and content with her surroundings and life. She is under the immediate charge of the prison matrou, assisting in the kitchen and the dining room of the female department, and judging from all appearances noticed by the reporter, her life is one of comparative ease and contentment, and is free from the cares and troubles that usually vex a large mojority of human kind. Her baby is still with her, a bright and robust boy, and he is quite a favorite among the prison officials. He takes an inordinate delight in the presence of Warden Coffin, and when the Gazette man in company with Mr. Coffin entered the apartment, the little fellow at once set up a shout of joy, affectionately clinging to his neck and toying with his whiskers and hair. We understand that there is more ac-tivity in the Pension Bureau at Washington than ever before. Corporal Tanner is surely demonstrating the interest he feels in having all just claims promptly allowed. It seems to us advisable that soldiers having claims should hasten their preparation at once, and that, if an attorney is desired, Milo B. Stevens & Co., of Washington, should be applied to. These gentlemen have branch offices at Cleyeland and at other points, and are energetically endeav-oring to afford the Corporal all possible opportunity to execute the pension laws.
